Presented at the SOBRA Fair will be equipment suppliers whose activities are needed by the military and civil defence, fire services, police and other institutions for the protection and rescue of people and property. Also those activities and missions of institutions and individuals that care for security and protection will be presented. Business and professional exhibitions and conferences, dynamic presentations, and the best advice will be joined into a true festival of security. These are also the reasons why in addition to the targeted business and professional public the SOBRA Fair is also visited by masses of visitors from all walks of life. At the fair these people equip themselves with the knowledge and products that can protect them from the threats of military aggression, crime, fires, accidents and incidents in households, harmful emissions and discharges of hazardous substances as well as from natural disasters.
